

Hover Hub

The hover hub challenge will have you flying off the handle through this cerebral, communication based course, while you battle the clock. It's all about teamwork and planning as you have to decide on your approach that best suits the stage of the course, to ease your team through the bamboo obstacle course in time.

Neither your team nor the "hover hub" can touch any part of the course. So you better take care to keep those valuable points. The "hub" itself requires some getting used to for the team to be able to handle it through the twists and turns of the track. This challenge requires team work and communication in order to achieve the common goal, which is to complete the course with a perfect round.
